Hello Brandon,

Thank you for the update on your story planned for Sunday evening. I do have this correspondence, which was the university's response to a concern raised by the Anti Defamation League. It summarizes the university action in this matter. You would be welcome to quote from it in your story.

I am not aware of any further activity on the part of the university, but again, Nanci Howe is away.

Best,
Lisa

Dear Seth,

Thank you for taking the time to write and share your concerns regarding Molly Horwitz's experience with the ASSU elections process. I met with Molly soon after her interview and I understand the concerns that you and she raise. Stanford takes this issue seriously. We expect all our students to be treated fairly and with respect. No one should be singled out because of race, gender or religion.

Sally Dickson, the Associate Vice Provost of Student Affairs, promptly spoke to the students directly involved in the interview session in order to hear their perspectives about the exchange. We learned that there are different accounts of what occurred. Regardless, we have reminded those involved that all candidates should be treated consistently and fairly and that questioning based on an individual's ethnic or religious affiliation is inappropriate. We remain committed to working with our students involved in the elections to actively support a fair and respectful process. We will also continue to work directly with Molly in addressing her concerns.

I appreciate the work done by the Anti-Defamation League and your interest in our students. Again, thank you for sharing your thoughts.

Sincerely,

Nanci Howe

Hi Lisa,

Thank you for sending this along! Unfortunately, the letter to Ms. Howe was not included in the message as an attachment. It says "<letter to Howe 3-18-15.pdf>" without an actual file. May you please send the pdf?

Thank you.

Best,
Brandon
